EX LIBRIS

THE

EAGLE

1954

As we look out into the World, we see many new hopes and new dreams. We realize, that soon, we are to leave Fort Knox High School. It is now the time for our yearbook.

We hope that you will enjoy it as much as we enjoyed giving it to you. May many happy memories come to those who leaf through the pages of this book. May our work not be in vain.

We give to you our book.....The '54 Eagle

We

The Senior Class of 1954

do dedicate our yearbook to the Faculty and Administrators who have been so helpful to us during our years at Fort Knox High

Administration and Faculty

Mr. William E. Kingsolver, our superintendent, has been in Fort Knox since June 1941. Kirklin, Indiana, is his home town. He received his A.B. degree from Franklin State College and his M.A. from the University of Indiana. Golf, hunting, and fishing are among his favorite activities.

The Commanding General of The Armored Center in Fort Knox, Kentucky, is Major General John Howell Collier. Major General Collier was born at Uvalde, Texas. He was graduated from the United States Military Academy in the class of 1918. Major General Collier was assigned the command of The Armored Center on August 7, 1952.

Our principal, Mr. Herschel J. Roberts, was born in Hyden, Kentucky. He has been at Fort Knox eleven years. Mr. Roberts attended Georgetown College and Louisiana State University. He obtained his A.B. and M.A. degrees from Eastern Kentucky State College. He enjoys sports and reading.

"Parlez-vous francais?"
says

Mary Baker Knox, our French "prof," who has an A.B. and an M.A. from the University of Kentucky. When Miss Knox "ne traduise pas les idioms," she "conque les verbes" to Freshmen and Sophomore English classes.

Best of luck always!
Mary Knox

"Fruitibles Soror" Semper vos in memoria tenebo" Best always Prof.

To be versatile in 1953,
one must speak Latin as well as French
so "Tempus fugit" says

Salvatore Matarazzo, our Latin instructor from Rhode Island —with an M.A. from the University of Kentucky. When Mr. "Mat" is not "transiens Rubiconem," he is "numquam negandi, raro cenfirmandis et semper compromittendi" with the Seniors in economics and looking forward to the time that he can "START COACHING BASEBALL."

So we learn our Latin and French to "translate Shakespeare" for Miss Schlinker and prove that we know what

Sallye Maddox Parks from Rockport, Kentucky, says all Freshmen should know. Mrs. Parks "n'essaie pas conjuguer etre" or "castra declinare." Her purpose, she says, is to teach the art of writing "simple English sentences."

SOCIAL SCIENCE

"Who fired the first shot in the Civil War?"
inquires

Lucille M. Van Dyke, the petite and industrious social science teacher, who has been asking difficult questions at Fort Knox High for three years. She is an energetic "Rebel from the hills of Kentucky." While she is not coaching future "Sarah Bernhardt's" in the Junior class, she's designing clothes, reading, swimming, or golfing. Her U.S. and World History students eventually hear:

"Anyone who doesn't know the score of last night's basketball game is in for a rough time" as prophesied by

Salvatore Matarazzo to his economic and government classes.

LIBRARY

"Caesar's ghost!"

has pulled Jasper Schlinker's "little red wagon" through the halls of Fort Knox for nine years. She wants us to know that her home is Munfordville, Kentucky, and that her favorite school is Western State College.

SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS

"No, no, H2O doesn't mean sulphuric acid—it is the symbol for water," says

Ruth James for the three hundred and forty-sixth time. A General Science teacher must know her science and Mrs. James is no exception. When she is not involved with experiments, she's playing tennis or swimming.

"Where's my frog?"
"Where's Herman?"
demands
Delores Walker, the biology teacher. above the
"$9a^2 - (2x-m)^2$—now factor it!"
of Thomas Sallengs, mathematics teacher, who has his troubles, too. Mr. Sallengs has been a student in the University of Michigan and in Oklahoma A and M. He has an M.A. degree from Western State College, in Bowling Green, Kentucky.

"Pressure increases proportionally with depth," preaches

Carl Williams for the seventh year. This Cumberland County, Kentucky teacher, known for his modest ties, can often be found proving his oft-quoted statements by sinking a fish hook in the "briney seas" or dropping a golf ball into the hole. Mr. Williams is an instructor in mathematics and science and Assistant Principal of the High School.

COMMERCE

dictates

Alberta Chapman, commerce teacher from Vine Grove, Kentucky. Miss Chapman instructs future typists and secretaries —the monotony being broken by a class in eighth-grade English.

See I am a "shining example" of the teaching of a Commerce Teacher
says

Jane D. Moore, the efficient school secretary, who sells the textbooks and writes the transcripts for those who go and files them for those who come. Mrs. Moore came to Fort Knox from Colorado. She is a graduate of S.M.U. Girl Scouts take care of her leisure time.

home economics

Katherine Roberts has the nicest class of all—Cooking! and her spare time is spent on a "busman's holiday," so to speak, as she likes to test new recipes. Home Economics is not all food; however, sewing and learning how to take care of a home are a part of the course of study. Mrs. Roberts is a graduate of Eastern State Teachers' College.

Katherine Roberts

music department

"All I want is music, music, music." Debelou Isaac takes this song literally. She teaches vocal music to the high school and the grade school during the day, and in the evening she spends her spare time dancing and singing. Miss Isaac is another Kentuckian who attended Western State College.

"Ta ra ra boom de a!"
booms

Lucile Sale's students as she brings down the baton to start the "Star Spangled Banner" that prefaces our athletic contests. Mrs. Sale is the Band Director. She came to Knox from Florida.

shop

"Bang, Bang"
"Rat-a-tat-tat-"

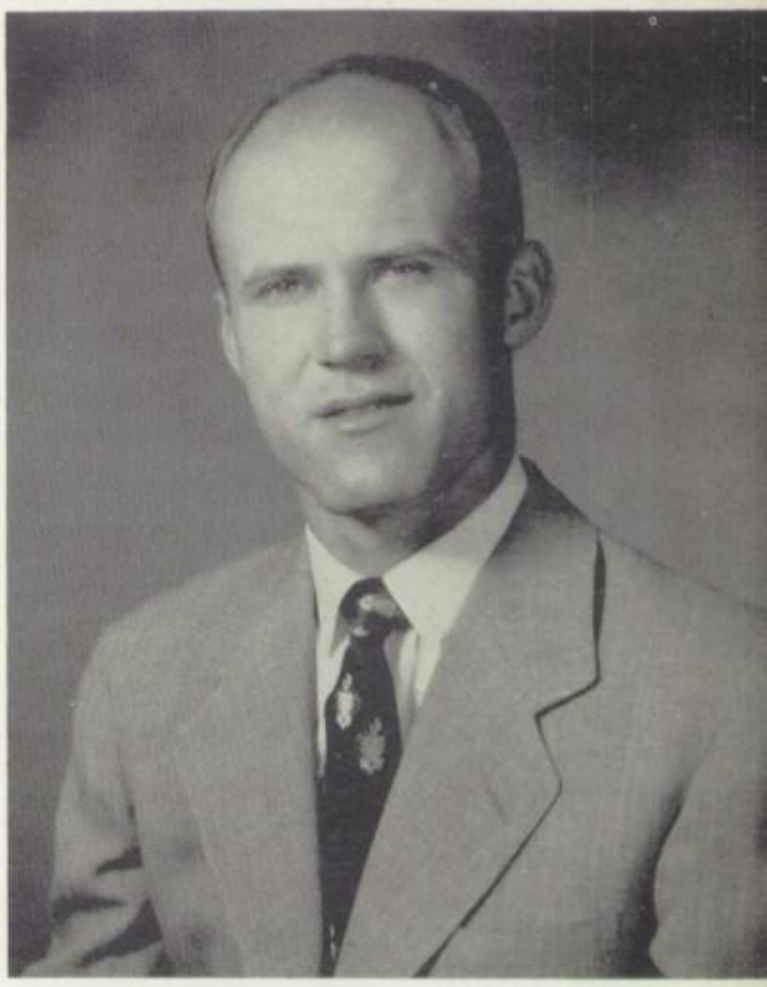
Steve Pulawski lets the hammer come down, the lathe turn, and the saw buz-z-z-z. Mr. Pulawski is the mastermind behind the shop work at FKHS. He is a graduate of Eastern State College and came to Knox in 1952.

physical education

"Hike! 2! 3! 4! 5!"
murmurs

George Bertram as he walks down the hall, and no one ever thinks it strange because Mr. "B" is the football coach. Along with his "signal memorizing" he finds time to conduct classes in driver's education—CRASH! When he has any time left over, he goes hunting and fishing.

Steve Pulawski can also be seen taking the football players through their plays.



Leon Kingsolver, the basketball coach, is an alumnus of Fort Knox High School. He attended Memphis State College and has been teaching and coaching here for two years.

"Mr. Matt" pops up again! Here, in the form of the baseball coach!

Buffalo, New York, makes its contribution to our faculty. Delores Walker, the cheerleader's coach, is a graduate of Eastern State Teacher's College. Miss Walker is a great fan of modern dancing and is the sponsor of a Modern Dance Club. She is director of girls' physical education.

Feel like a veete of them must go to the Bowls - this football season - that worked for you all - that worked for you all - that worked for you all

Marilyn Joyce Blue

El Paso, Texas

Marilyn is a mischievous miss of seventeen. She has chestnut hair and hazel eyes. She loves people and is interested in almost everything. Her friends enjoy being with her because she seldom takes things seriously and is always looking on the bright side of life. She has become quite a vagabond as a result of having lived in Japan, Panama, and thirty-eight of the forty-eight states.

Charles Lawerence Brown

Minneapolis, Minnesota

"Chuck," like all "Army Brats," has been moving from "Post to Post" almost all of his life. After his Freshman and Sophomore years at Frankfurt, Germany, he came to Fort Knox as a Junior. "Chuck" is an all around person, always ready and willing to lend a helping hand. No matter what the problem is, he can always be counted on for a suggestion or a solution. He is interested in sports and passing grades. If he is urged, "Chuck" will raise his voice with the best of the Glee Club. With his personality and enthusiasm, he is capable of succeeding in whatever career he chooses.

Shirley Lee Howitz

Fort Benning, Georgia

At the tender old age of six, Shirley enrolled in the first grade at Fort Knox. As the years have rolled quickly by, we find that she has finished her school career here. The fact is, only a few precious years were spent away from Fort Knox; those years were spent in Fort Benning. Shirley's pleasant smile, wonderful personality, and reliability have become a school tradition. So long and good luck in everything you attempt, Shirley. Fort Knox will miss you.

Patricia Anne Kerins

Leetsdale, Pennsylvania

Pat has no real dislikes, but she has many preferences. She likes sports, good music, dancing, good books, Ray Anthony's band, lots of people, parties, and just loafing around. Her ambition is to go to college and to teach French or Italian to high school students. Maybe Pat has chosen to teach in high school because she has thoroughly enjoyed her high school career. She looks to the future with faith and eagerness. Life has always been a pleasant situation, and she plans for it to remain that way.

Gwynne Bethel Lewis

Louisville, Kentucky

Gwynne came to Fort Knox at the beginning of her fourth year in school, and she has been here ever since. Although she won't admit it, she likes school very much and wishes that all members of her class could be as happy as a Senior as she has been. She admires her teachers very much and hopes to be one herself some day. Gwynne is a great favorite among the students and faculty. One can always tell when she is around by her hearty giggle and witty statements. She can usually be found at home—reading; or at the Knox-Drive-In, if she can get the "Dodge."

Anthony Adam Lyle

Burnham, Pennsylvania

Anthony was born July 4, 1936, in the state which he regards as the greatest of the "forty-eight." He is a real "firecracker" and a loyal Yankee. "Tony" came to Knox as a Junior in 1952—his first introduction to life on an Army Post. This Senior enjoys dancing to the music of Mantavani. Through his years of school, Anthony has shown an enthusiasm which he hopes may aid him in going to college and becoming a success in life.

My biggest surprise was when I was born. I didn't expect it. But I really wasn't disappointed, and no one else seemed to be. Since that time I have always enjoyed surprises, even though I have to work for them. Surprises! Efforts! Interest! All have crystalized into a desire to master electronics. Reckon I would have really had a surprise if the field of electronics hadn't become important about this time. Who knows what would have happened? Next June many people are going to get surprises, and I hope I am one of those who do.

Patricia Ann Ritchie

Frankfort, Kentucky

A pleasant personality, with a friendliness surpassed by few, characterizes "Pat." During her nine years in the Fort Knox High School, Pat has made many lasting friends. Visitors often drop in at the Ritchies where there is always food and fun. Pat has learned how to meet people and make friends with them. Personality pays; Pat has learned this. She was elected cheerleader in her Junior year—this was one of her great ambitions. Her love for cheerleading can be seen at any Fort Knox game. "Pat" hopes to continue her education in the college of her choice. Her personality and friendliness will assure success wherever she goes.

Ometa Kaye Stevens

Beaver Dam, Kentucky

That Kay Stevens will "bend over backwards to please" is evidenced both literally and figuratively by her agile actions as a cheerleader and by her winning and sincere ways. Her vivaciousness is not confined solely to cheerleading, since much of her exuberance and energy is exerted in her untiring efforts as co-editor of the yearbook. All of Kaye's friends know her for her spontaneity, her desire to do things with and for people, and her admirable manner of attacking with intelligence and eagerness whatever task lies before her. Kaye is dependable, reliable, co-operative, and unwaveringly loyal. These attributes, with her pleasant disposition and ever ready laugh, will do much in assuring Kaye the happiness and success she deserves.

I am a "Maineiac" and proud of it! I was born on December 26, 1936, a late Christmas present. I am the second of ten children; therefore, I could have been a good babysitter. My dad has been in the Army as long as I can remember, and I have traveled quite a bit. Fort Knox High is the largest high school I have attended. There were only twenty-nine students in the entire school I attended when I was a Freshman, and only thirty-six when I was a Sophomore. I came to Knox in August of '52 and "took a liking" to it right away. Although my high school years have been happy ones, I hope soon to be entering into a successful Air Force career.

It might well be said of Jeannine, "Her ways are ways of pleasantness and all her paths are peace." For the last two years, her quiet and appealing attitude has brought her many friends. Soft-spoken Jeannine has proven herself dependable and reliable. Her slow smile speaks an invitation to all who will be a friend, and her admirable quality of "willingness to help" is proof of her sincere interest in others. We wish Jeannine every possible success as she moves along the path of life.

SENIORS OF '54

On May 28, 1974, at eight o'clock, in Fort Knox, Kentucky, the graduates of the Fort Knox class of '54 are meeting in Room 11 for a class reunion. They have just been to breakfast in the Coffee Shop at the Central Guest House. The noted author, Mr. O. Wemple Lyle, was the speaker. His subject was "The South's Handicaps in the Civil War."

Last to arrive at breakfast, and to Room 11, as usual, is Larry Southard, the "tardiest" sailor in Uncle Sam's Navy.

The group has just settled down for a class meeting, just like the old times.

Harry Foster, now a general in the U. S. Army, is trying to maintain order but is having trouble keeping down the noise in the corner. Yes, it is Patsy Perry, now a six-foot redhead! Talking with Patsy is Gwynne Lewis who has completed her ninth year as "Champion of the Bookworms." Gale Paisley, famous for heroic services during the "conquest of the Flying Saucers," is listening.

Now, all of the formalities are over, and the reminiscing is beginning. Pat Kerins, the famous Broadway actress, is "rehashing" the Acquaintance Dance of '53 with Ray Paulsen, who is currently working as bookkeeper for Henry Surowski's "Vegetable Mart."

Shirley Howitz, author of How to Meet a Lieutenant in Six Easy Lessons; Kaye Stevens, hefty women's wrestling champ; Alice Sparks, head of "Crazy Stocks, Inc."; and Carl Townsend, wealthy Oklahoma rancher are recalling the fabulous Christmas Dance.

Anthony Lyle, newly appointed Harvard Professor, and Pat Ritchie, the only girl to get an appointment to West Point, are still arguing about what would have been "the best" in the Sport Section of the '54 Year Book.

Joe Bill Schultz is showing his new painting, "Caesar's Ghost," to Marilyn Blue, author of I Teach Literature and Like It.

Dick McCullough, the dashing, suave, and debonair "Tommy Manville" of the Class of '54, is recalling the hectic tournament days. Agreeing with him is Lorane Nordling, the famous hair stylist, who still doesn't know whether to keep her own hair "mannish" or "feminine."

Jeannine Vermette, secretary to John Spilman, the President of Harvard University, is discussing the Senior "Ditch Day" with Betty Ann Hatfield,, the proud possessor of the title, "Georgia Peach of '73."

John Ashcraft and Albert Vermette could not come to the reunion—they are in Alaska with the latest "Space Expedition to Pluto." They still fear, we hear, that they will lose their titles as President and Vice-President, respectively, of the "Bachelor's Club of the Entire Universe."

Charles Brown, number one among the ten best dressed men of '73, and Nancy Buckles, the best dressed woman of '72 and '73, are discussing changes in fashion. Let's listen . . .
